ROASTED COFFEE PROCESSING

COFFEE ROASTING AND GRINDING PROCESS

The coffee roasting and grinding process begins with selecting high-quality green coffee beans, removing defective beans and impurities, then cleaning and sorting them by size. The beans are roasted at the right temperature to create a distinctive flavor and quickly cooled to preserve the aroma. Next, the coffee is ground to the desired fineness according to usage needs and finally packed in specialized packaging to ensure flavor and quality when it reaches consumers.

We provide consulting and research services for coffee roasting and grinding, helping customers quickly develop their own recipes, unique flavors, and finished products that carry their brand identity.

Customers provide green coffee beans, and we perform roasting – grinding – and packaging according to their requirements, ensuring quality and preserving the unique flavor of their brand.

CASHEW PROCESSING

CASHEW PROCESSING PROCEDURE

The cashew processing procedure begins with harvesting, cleaning, and sorting the raw cashew nuts. They are then steamed or dried to soften the shell and remove the hard outer layer. Next, the nuts are dried again to reduce moisture, the thin testa (skin) is removed, and they are sorted by size, color, and integrity. The cashew kernels are carefully inspected and selected to ensure uniform quality, then can be roasted or seasoned according to processing needs before being packed for preservation, retaining their characteristic flavor and crispiness.

We provide consulting and research services for new cashew products, accompanying customers from the idea stage, recipe testing, to processing the final product. With a professional process, we help create unique cashew lines that suit market preferences and elevate brand value.

Customers provide cashew kernels, and we carry out processing – roasting – seasoning – and packaging according to their requirements, ensuring quality and the product's distinctive flavor.

COCONUT TREE FOR YOU GIVING WITH HEART

PROJECT OVERVIEW

Through the Coconut Tree Ownership Project, BENTRECORP aims to collaborate with farmers to create sustainable value for the community and Vietnamese agriculture.

"Honey Shrimp Coconut & Ecological Chicken" is a strategic agricultural initiative by Bentrecorp, developing a sustainable model that integrates the "Coconut Garden - Shrimp Square - Honey Bees - Free-Range Chicken" ecosystem.

The project aims to efficiently utilize Vinh Long's resources, promote green and environmentally friendly agriculture, enhance economic value, and build a model circular ecosystem.

"Honey Shrimp Coconut & Ecological Chicken" not only focuses on coconuts but also creates a diverse, high-quality product chain for both domestic and export markets.

4-IN-1 VALUE MODEL

The project focuses on a 4-in-1 value model – a closed, mutually beneficial agricultural ecosystem.

Coconut: Fully utilize every part of the coconut – from fruit, water, and pulp – to produce deeply processed products such as oil, juice, and snacks.

Organic shrimp: Raised in coconut ponds that meet international organic standards and serve export markets.

Honeybee: Harvesting honey from coconut flowers to create high-value, locally endemic products.

Ecological chicken: Free-ranging under coconut trees, providing clean meat and eggs while supporting natural pest control and organic fertilization.

STABLE SOURCE OF INCOME

- "Coconut Trees For You – A Heart to Give" is a project connecting tree buyers with farmers.
- Buyers not only receive high-quality agricultural products but also help improve farmers' livelihoods and increase their incomes.

COCONUT GARDEN - SHRIMP SQUARE HONEY BEE - FREE-RANGE CHICKEN

"Green investment with Bentrecorp – Joining hands with farmers, reaping success."

COMPETITIVE ADVANTAGE

Model of diversifying income sources on the same area, combining coconut - shrimp - bee - chicken to create many products, reduce risks and increase value.

Production activities follow the principles of circular agriculture, meet organic standards, have international traceability, and expand opportunities to enter high-end markets such as the US, EU, and Japan.

With the support of the Bentrecorp brand, the project is supported in distribution, brand positioning and development of agricultural tourism experiences in Vinh Long - where visitors can pick coconuts, catch shrimp, collect honey and collect chicken eggs in a cool green space.

ORIENTATION & MEANING

In the coming time, Bentrecorp will expand the model of "Coconut Honey Shrimp & Ecological Chicken" in Vinh Long, and at the same time apply preservation and deep processing technology to increase product value.

A key objective of the project is to contribute to stabilizing coconut prices, avoiding the situation of "good harvest, low price", and at the same time increasing income for associated farmers thanks to diversifying product sources.

The project is both economically effective and socially meaningful: promoting green agriculture, elevating Vinh Long agricultural products and accompanying farmers sustainably.

CARBON CREDIT

- Concept of carbon credit

A carbon credit is a unit permitting the emission or absorption of 1 ton of CO₂.

Coconut trees absorb CO₂ through photosynthesis and store carbon in their trunk, leaves, roots, and soil.

- Planting and caring for coconut trees sustainably helps:

Educe emissions (limit chemical fertilizers, utilize by-products).
increase carbon absorption, improve soil, and enhance biodiversity.

- Coconut growers/companies can be granted carbon credits, thereby:

Sell or trade on the carbon market → generate additional income.
increase brand value, associated with green and sustainable agriculture.

- This approach helps both increase economic benefits and protect the environment, while contributing to vietnam's 2050 carbon neutrality goal.
